

The North Shore AIDS Peer Educators Visit Manhasset Hospital

The North Shore Peer Educators are busy preparing for their visits to health classes to educate and create awareness concerning this disease. Pictured is the group at a recent visit to the North Shore University Hospitals for an AIDS Awareness program for World AIDS Day 2009. The group was asked to be a part of the candle lighting ceremony.....a tradition to every World AIDS Day Program. Jonathan Galati was the performer who sang an inspiring song, giving hope for a cure to one and all who attended the program.
