

Making an Appointment With Your Counselor

To make an appointment you should see your counselor before school, after school, during your lunch period or between classes. Your counselor will help you schedule a time and date for an appointment that is good for both you and your counselor. Because class time is very important, the best time to meet is usually during your lunch period.

If you have a problem that needs immediate attention, your counselor will do his or her best to get you in as soon as possible. Sometimes counselors are not available immediately due to meetings or appointments but please leave a note in the Main Office so that they can find you when they become available.

There might be a day when you will get a pass in homeroom for an appointment that you did not schedule. That might be for a group meeting or for an appointment to see your counselor to discuss something. If it is during a period of a class that you feel you cannot miss, please let your counselor know, so that he or she can reschedule you for another time.

Guidance Counselors are always willing to help!